Washington, May 13.—People who went to see Mr. Roosevelt at the White House to-day found him too busy to attend to to-day found him too busy to attend to anything except the consummation of the relief measures which he initiated early yesterday morning, and if the Hon. Henry Westerday has been there with the relief to these people Secretary of Water directs that you send such subsistence stores you have on hand as can be spared, also such clothing from Quartermaster's Department as might be needed, especially Watterson had been there with others who profess to believe with him that Mr. Rooseveit pursues "bronco busting" methods in carrying on his administration, they might have found some confirmation of their contention. The President did not "bust" any wild horses, but he tore into little bits a large amount of official red tape, and broke down a few figurative fences that under other Administrations might have retarded the progress of his intention to get relief to the scene of the West Indian catastrophe with the least possible delay. In doing these things his training as Assistant Secretary of the Navy served him in good

The most important thing the President did to-day was to issue an appeal to the people of the United States to send private contributions to committees named by him for the assistance of the surviving inhabitants of Martinique and St. Vincent, and in addition to the pleasure of signing the act appropriating $200,000 for relief measures, the expenditure of nearly every cent of which had been provided for before the act had even passed the House, he had the satisfaction of knowing that the Senate had adopted an additional measure to increase the relief fund to the half million dollars asked for by the President in his epecial message. The appeal was issued at the end of a Cabinet meeting lasting three hours. It is

A good part of this extra-long Cabinet session was taken up in considering relief measures. It was realized by Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers, after a brief review of the situation, that the $200,000 appropriated by Congress was entirely too small to carry out the comprehensive plans of the Government. The cost of provisions. medicine and other supplies already ordered sent to St. Pierre is nearly equal to the full appropriation, and as the latest news from St. Vincent indicates that much distress prevails there, an additional expenditure for relief will be required. President Roosevelt and his Cabinet have determined not to undertake any half-way measures, and they are anxious to give to the stricken people of the British island the same degree of succor that has been deemed necessary for its French neighbor. deemed necessary for its French heighbor. On account of the advantageous geographical situation of this country to Martinique and St. Vincent the United States Government is in better position than England or France to send assistance to the West Indian colonies of those nations, and the President is going ahead on the idea that diplomatic formalities, such as offering aid before undertaking to give it, should be dispensed

The eruption of Krakatoa in 1883 was followed by phenomena such as those which M. Flammarion predicts. For months all over the world, the "red sunsets" were observed and commented on. Scientists attributed the luminous appearance of the sky to the mass of volcanic dust throw miles into the air by the Krakatoa explosion.

SHIPLOAD OF FOOD CLOSE BY.

MADIANA WILL HAVE IT AT FORT DE FRANCE BY SATURDAY.

Chamber of Commerce Will Present It to the French Government-Loading the Dixle at Night in Haste-French Cable May Be Picked Up Any Moment.

There was an informal meeting at the ooms of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday in response to an invitation which President Morris K. Jesup sent out to members of shipping firms and merchants trading with Martinique. Mr. Jesup wanted to consult these gentlemen about supplies most needed for the victims of the volcano and the amount of food supplies that may be supposed to be on hand in Martinique now for immediate use. All the leading Martinique shipping and trading firms of the city were represented. The conclusions reached will be submitted at the special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held at 12:30 to-day.

Mr. Jesup also consulted Col. Brainard of the Quartermaster's Department at the Army Building about the quantity of supplies that can be taken on the Dixie. He secured on the Fontabella, which sail- for the West Indies next Saturday, cargo space that the War Department had decided not to take amounting to 1,100 barrels, and the Fontabella will be loaded with food and supplies Martinique. She will go direct to Martinique instead of stopping at the usual prior ports of call.

LOADING THE DIXIE WITH SPEED. Loading the dixie with speed.

The auxiliary cruiser Dixie moved late yesterday afternoon from the navy yard to Pier 15, at the foot of Montague street, Brooklyn, and the work of loading her with relief supplies for Martinique began at once. When the Dixie got to the pier only a small part of the enormous quantity of clothing and foodstuffs that is to go aboard her was there, but shortly afterward the trucks of the wholesale grocers began to arrive piled high with boxes and cases, and before 3 o'clock there was more work than the longshoremen could handle. The work went on as long as there was cargo to put on. put on

The Dixie expects to get away this afternoon. Capt Berry's orders are to get all in the way of clothing and supplies aboard that he can and then get under way. It was said last night that the Dixie couldn't possibly be loaded full until tonight.

couldn't possibly be loaded full until tonight.

Major Von Schroeder of the Quartermaster's Department said yesterday that all of the $20,000 allotted to his department had been spent, and that the merchants from whom purchases had been made had promised to get everything over to the Dixie as fast as possible. The Quartermaster's Department has purchased clothing for men, women and children; blankets, shoes, tents and other comforts which are necessary for immediate relief.

Major Brainerd of the Subsistence De-

Capt. Berry of the Dixie is at his wits' end what to do with all the persons who wants to take all he can. But he has a large crew, and every inch of room on the cruiser that can be spared is to be given to the relief supplies. Just how much the Dixie can carry is not known, but it is estimated that when she arrives at Martinique she will be ready to supply food for some 40,000 persons for a week as least.

A great many of those who want to go to Martinique with the Dixie are scientific men. Dr. Thomas A. Jaggar, instructor of geology at Harvard, is going to make a study of the recent volcanic eruptions for Harvard and for the United States Geological Survey, and others who are booked for the United States Geologist of the United States Geologist Survey, Prof. I. C. Russell of the University of Michigan and one and possibly two representatives of the Weather Bureau.

MAY LAND CABLE AT ST. PIERRE AGAIN. At the French cable office yesterday the managers said that their repair steamer, the Pouyer-Quentier, was grappling for the broken cable off St. Pierre. The search the broken cable off St. Fierre. In search yesterday was proceeding about twenty miles off the coast and it was thought the cable might be picked up and communication established with the cable ship at almost any moment. St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, would be the first place to hear from her. From there the line goes to Puerto Piata, to Cape Haytien and from there to New York. As soon as the Pouyer-Quentier picks up the cable she will splice t and go to Martinique, paying out the cable as she goes. Mr. Sweeney of the French Company said yesterday that a landing would probably be made near the late city of St. Pierre if the thing were possible. Anything will do for an office-a shanty of any kind or even a flour barrel set on end. With this connection there will be no longer any necessity for sending messages here by way of South America and Europe The Commercial Cable Company yesterday afternoon issued this notice: We have advices of opportunity to send messages for Martinique by steamer from Dominica up to the closing of the Dominica office at 10 o'clock in the evening.

WHY NEWS IS HARD TO GET. Mr. Smart, superintendent of the Com-mercial office at No. 20 Broad street, said that he had no doubt the single cable now connecting Martinique with the world was heavily burdened with French Govern-ment business which had precedence over other messages. "I should suppose," he added, "that 115 "I should suppose," he added, "that 115 letters a minute—letters, not words, mind you—would be about the limit of speed that could be counted upon at the Fort de France office. I do not know how many operators there are there, but probably not more than four. There is a limit to human endurance, of course, and it is too much to expect that those men would be able to keep up any such pace as 115 letters per minute continuous v. Thus you see that it is not difficult to conceive of the Fort de France office being swamped with work, making delays inevitable."

LONDON, May 13 .- Replying to a question by Mr. John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, in the House of Commons this afternoon, the First Lord of the Treasury, the R ght Hon. A. J. Balfour, Government leader, said he was aware of the action taken by President Roosevelt in recommending an appropriation of $500,000 for the immediate relief of the sufferers by the volcanoes on the French island of Martinique. added that he had never heard of a vote of this kind being submitted to Parliament. Mr. Balfour said that of course the Government sympathized with the tremendous amount of suffering that existed. Every assistance that could be rendered on the spot would be given.

Mr. Dillon then asked whether, in view of the unparalleled character of the disaster, the First Lord of the Treasury would not consider the desirability of making a precedent. He (Mr. Dillon) felt sure the vote would be obtained unanimously.

Mr. Balfour replied that the Government had the matter under consideration. He was not prepared at the present time to make an announcement on the subject.

RAIDS PINK SLIPPER NURSES. Capt. Sheehan Descends on McCulloch

"Sanitarium." Frances E. McCulloch's "sanitarium" n East Twenty-seventh street was raided by Capt. Sheehan and four of his Tenderloin detectives last night. The raid was made ten minutes before midnight, greatly disturbing twenty-five male "patients," who, when they were dressed, wore evening clothes and opera high hats. Mrs. McCulloch was the only one arrested. When the police entered, the "patients" when the police entered, the "patients" ran for the roof.

Mrs. Mocullach was put in the patrol wagon, and the wagon was driven around to the Empire, a dive in West Twenty-ninth street. There the detectives locked the doors, and wouldn't let anybody out. They arrested ten women and two men, polyding the allocated arrests. neluding the alleged proprietor, Thomas Jackson. They were all taken in the patrol wagen to the Tenderloin station with the wagon to the Tenderloin station with lady of the sanitarium and locked up.

When a man is drowning his rescue is a question of timely help. It is the same thing in disease. Many a time the loctor says of a man whose condition is ioneless, "If you'd begun in time you night have been cured."

This is especially true when the dissase affects the lungs. Delay is danger-ous. The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will result in a quick cure of deep-seated coughs. bronchitis, and weak lungs. Even when hemorrhages have been frequent and profuse "Golden Medical Discovery" has been used time and again with the result of a perfect and permanent cure. Mr. McCauley, of Leechburg, Armstrong Pa., had eighty-one hemorrhages and after other medical aid had failed he was completely cured by the use of "Colden Medical Discovery," Accept no substitute for "Golden Medica! Discovery." There is no other medicine just as good for "weak " lungs .. icine just as good for "weak" lungs.

"I was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mr. Elmer Lawier, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Ind. "I had stomach kidney, heart and lung troubles. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and flesh, and stopped coughing right away. Took about six bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery them and last spring I had Grippe and it seitled on my lungs, leaving me with a severe couch. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced your medicine again and took three or four bottles of the Discovery and two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets, and that straightened me up. I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."
